"Little details like large square studs around the headboard in an antique finish could add the edge needed for this look or choose one really striking piece of period furniture in a prominent place for most impact."

Henriette von Stockhausen says: "Strong colours are good for this style. Be brave but don't go mad; restrict yourself to a feature wall or smaller rooms which, against all belief, can take darker colours much better. Farrow and Ball paints have a chalky, old-fashioned distemper look that makes their darker colours much softer."

Limited edition 'Moth' monochrome print, £30. Familiar, folksy.com/shops/familiar

Glamour to Go

The devil is in the detail with these luxurious touches

Tokyo Milk skull and roses cosmetic bag, £17.50. Berry Red, 01432 274805, berryred.co.uk

Henriette von Stockhausen says: "In the kitchen, incorporate a Gothic arch over your range or Aga to hide the flu and add character at the same time. Less is more in this case, so combine with a Gothic-inspired fabric for blinds. In the bathroom, some dark marble will create a glamorous look."

VSP Interiors (Dorchester), vspinteriors.com
